Lutheran-Catholic Dialogue: How Far Have We Come? How Far Still to Go?

What has been accomplished in Lutheran-Catholic dialogue over the last forty years? We will look at the goals of Lutheran-Catholic dialogue, and at Lutheran-Catholic dialogues on justification, Mary, and the papacy.

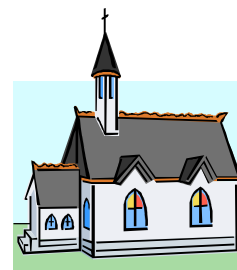

Dr. Michael Root, Dean
 Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary

Congregational History Matters: Telling Your Story, Preserving Your Story

Do you know where your history is . . . ? Is it buried in shoeboxes in a closet? Deteriorating in a member's attic or basement? This course will focus on two themes: (1) learning how to preserve congregational history so that it may be passed to the next generation, and (2) learning to share and celebrate our history in new and exciting ways.

Dr. Susan McArver, Professor of Education Ministry and Church History

Psalms in Israel and Christianity

A study of the Psalms in their original context in ancient Israel and how they function in Christianity and Judaism. Special use of the Yale ecumenical Psalms project including available textbook and DVD. Bible study, worship emphasis, audio-visual presentations.

The Rev. Dr. Lamontte Luker, Professor of Hebrew Scriptures
 Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary
